Morning, Gareth

I hope you are well.

We are about to 'go live' with the consultation for the planning application for the extension at Penrhyn.

This will involve a leaflet drop to the local community and having the draft document available for view/download on the Welsh Slate Website.

We need to serve a notice on both the local councillor(s) and technical consultees. Could you kindly confirm details for those we should consult; for the latter I suspect the list will be limited to NRW (Planning Liaison Officer) and various departments at the council?

Finally, in view of the [everchanging] restrictions due to covid-19 we are not proposing to have a hard copy available given that it will be available digitally. We trust that this will be acceptable to the council.

As always, any queries then please let me know.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards
Chris
